Great Expectations

Great Expectations neighborhoods are located throughout the country, with higher proportions found in the Midwest and South. Young singles and married-couple families dominate. The median age is 33.2 years. Labor force participation is high. Manufacturing, retail, and service industries are the primary employers. Approximately half of the households are owners living in single-family dwellings with a median value of $110,922; the other half are renters, mainly living in apartments in low-rise or mid-rise buildings. Most of the housing units in these older, suburban neighborhoods were built before 1960. Residents enjoy a young and active lifestyle. They go out to dinner, to the movies, to bars, and to nightclubs. They enjoy roller skating; using Rollerblades; playing Frisbee, chess, and pool; and attending auto races. They read music magazines and listen to rock music on the radio.

Simple Living

Simple Living neighborhoods are found in urban outskirts or suburban areas throughout the United States. Half of the households are singles who live alone or share housing, and 32 percent consist of married-couple families. The median age is 40.7 years. Approximately one-third of householders are aged 65 years or older; 19 percent are aged 75 years or older. Housing is a mix of single-family dwellings and multiunit buildings of varying stories. Some seniors live in congregate housing (assisted living). Fifty-six percent of households are occupied by renters. Forty percent of households receive Social Security benefits. Younger residents enjoy going out dancing, whereas seniors prefer going to bingo night. To stay fit, residents play softball and volleyball. Many households do not own a computer, cell phone, or DVD player. Residents watch hours of TV a day, especially sitcoms and science fiction shows.

Prosperous Empty Nesters

Prosperous Empty Nesters neighborhoods are well established, located throughout the United States; approximately one-third are on the eastern seaboard. The median age is 48.7 years. More than half of the householders are aged 55 or older. Forty percent of household types are married couples with no children living at home. Educated and experienced, residents are enjoying the life stage transition from child rearing to retirement. The median household income is $70,623. Residents place a high value on their physical and financial well-being and take an active interest in their homes and communities. They travel extensively, both at home and abroad. Leisure activities include refinishing furniture, playing golf, attending sports events, and reading mysteries. Civic participation includes joining civic clubs, engaging in fund-raising, and working as volunteers.

Midlife Junction

Midlife Junction communities are found in suburbs across the country. Residents are phasing out of their child-rearing years. Approximately half of the households are composed of married-couple families; 31 percent are singles who live alone. The median age is 41.2 years; the median household income is $49,031. One-third of the households receive Social Security benefits. Nearly two-thirds of the households are single-family structures; most of the remaining dwellings are apartments in multiunit buildings. These residents live quiet, settled lives. They spend their money prudently and do not succumb to fads. They prefer to shop by mail or phone from catalogs such as J.C. Penney, L.L. Bean, and Lands' End. They enjoy yoga, attending country music concerts and auto races, refinishing furniture, and reading romance novels.

Home Town

These low-density, settled neighborhoods, located chiefly in the Midwest and South, rarely change. Home Town residents stay close to their home base. Although they may move from one house to another, they rarely cross the county line. Household types are a mix of singles and families. The median age is 34.0 years. Single-family homes predominate in this market. Homeownership is at 59 percent, and the median home value is $66,885. The manufacturing, retail trade, and service industries are the primary sources of employment. Residents enjoy fishing and playing baseball, bingo, backgammon, and video games. Favorite cable TV stations include CMT, Nick-at-Nite, Game Show Network, and TV Land. Belk and Wal-Mart are favorite shopping destinations stops; residents also purchase items from Avon sales representatives.

Salt of the Earth

A rural or small-town lifestyle best describes the Salt of the Earth market. The median age is 41.4 years. Labor force participation is higher than the U.S. level, and unemployment is lower. Above-average numbers of employed residents work in the manufacturing, construction, mining, and agricultural industries. The median household income is $50,913. Households are dominated by married-couple families who live in single-family dwellings, with homeownership at 85 percent. Twenty-eight percent of the households own three or more vehicles. Most homes own a truck; many own a motorcycle. Residents are settled, hardworking, and self-reliant, taking on small home projects as well as vehicle maintenance. Families often own two or more pets, usually dogs or cats. Residents enjoy fishing, hunting, target shooting, attending country music concerts and auto races, and flying kites.

Heartland Communities

Heartland Communities neighborhoods are preferred by approximately six million people. These neighborhoods can be found primarily in small towns in the Midwest and South. More than 75 percent of the households are single-family dwellings with a median home value of $82,080. Most homes are older, built before 1960. The median age is 42.0 years; nearly one-third of the householders are aged 65 years or older. The distinctly country lifestyle of these residents is reflected in their interest in hunting, fishing, woodworking, playing bingo, and listening to country music. In addition to working on home improvement projects, they are avid gardeners and read gardening magazines. They participate in civic activities and take an interest in local politics. Residents order items from catalogs, QVC, and Avon sales representatives.

Rooted Rural

Rooted Rural neighborhoods are located in rural areas throughout the country; however, more than three-fifths of the households are located in the South. Households are dominated by married-couple families. One-third of the households receive Social Security benefits. The median age is 42.2 years. Housing is predominantly single-family dwellings, with a strong presence of mobile homes and some seasonal housing. The median home value is $101,198. Stable and settled, residents tend to move infrequently. They are do-it-yourselfers, constantly working on their homes, gardens, and vehicles. Many families have pets. Residents enjoy hunting, fishing, target shooting, boating, attending country music concerts, and listening to country music on the radio. Many households have a satellite dish; favorite stations include Outdoor Life Network and CMT.

Southern Satellites

Southern Satellites neighborhoods are rural settlements found primarily in the South, with employment chiefly in the manufacturing and service industries. Married-couple families dominate this market. The median age is 37.7 years, and the median household income is $39,758. Most housing is newer, single-family dwellings or mobile homes with a median value of $90,801, occupied by owners. Residents enjoy country living. They listen to gospel and country music on the radio and attend country music concerts. They participate in fishing, hunting, and auto racing. Favorite TV stations are CMT and Outdoor Life Network. Satellite dishes are popular in these rural locations. Households own older, domestic vehicles, particularly trucks and two-door sedans. Residents invest time in vegetable gardening, and households are likely to own riding mowers, garden tractors, and tillers.
